

Webinar: Keys to Career Success for Introverts

Thursday, November 12, 2015, 6:30-8:30pm

A Joint GVSU Section and Western Michigan Professional Section Event

Join Us for a Webinar and Networking Event!

The Western Michigan Professional Section and GVSU Student Section of the Society of Women Engineers are joining forces to present an informal opportunity for collegians to network with professionals and to watch a webinar with tips for introverts! Dinner from Olive Garden will be provided for collegians and $15 for professionals. Networking will begin at 6:30, followed by dinner and the webinar at 7:00.

About the Webinar...

The majority of women in engineering, science and technology are introverts in personality style. Introverts are often perceived as more subdued in the work environment, more hesitant to initiate and less willing to speak up in professional situations. This behavior can influence their perception by both men and women in the work environment, and impact their job responsibilities, salary and career progression. The Webinar will delve into the mindset of the introvert and share valuable tools.

Dr. Miriam Reiss helps professional women in engineering, science and technology optimize their careers for greater satisfaction on all levels. Co-author, "Branding & Marketing Mastery," Miriam is a former Director of Marketing and outplacement consultant, whose coaching clients have ranged from biotech professionals to women in engineering at companies including Boeing. She is Past President, Washington State Chapter, International Coach Federation (ICF), and is a Master Certified Coach, the ICF's most senior ranking. Miriam holds a doctorate from Peace Theological Seminary.
